Accidents happen every day. Why not be prepared? household supplied with need have no fear of the ordinary ailments and mishaps of mankind. Hamlin's Wizard Oil is a safeguard for children, a comfort to parents, a boon to the old folks. It will pay to keep this old-line, reliable family medicine always on hand in case of need.

John Smith, Starbuck, Minn., writes April 13, 1901: I have been in bed for four weeks with a Sprained Back, caused by too heavy lifting. I have tried almost everything to cure it. Seeing what Hamlin's Wizard Oil had done for others I tried a bottle and in two days I was able to work.

W. L. Steele, Santa Barbara, Cal., writes: My child fell from a high chair upon a hot stove and burned its forehead and side of face severely. It suffered intensely for three days, when we commenced using Hamlin's Wizard Oil. The pain was relieved in twenty minutes and the burns healed in about five days.

BIG SALMON DEMAND

THE WAR IN THE EAST HELPS THIS INDUSTRY.

Danger of the Fish Being Exterminated by Wasteful Methods of the Fishermen—Laws of British Columbia.

The opening of the salmon season in the northwest witnesses a new impetus given the industry by the war in the far east. Both Russia and Japan are making heavy demands upon the fish canneries of America and Canada to feed their armies in the field, canned fish being a staple article of diet with both nations. In addition to this increased demand another reason for the boom in the industry is the removal of Russia as a competitor in the canning field. It was expected that this year would see the establishment of the Siberian canneries from which Russia expected to supply the markets of Europe to a large extent, and so put a stop to the importation of this class of goods from America. The war will at least delay the proposed invasion of American commercial territory.

This country, however, must be careful of its fish supply, and take measures for its protection, if it is not in time to be put out of the market by a lack of product. Stories have come from Alaska, whose waters furnish 35,000,000 cans each year, or one-half the salmon supply of the world, that the fish is being slowly but surely exterminated because of the reckless methods of capturing them. As a result of a government investigation not long ago, Commander Jefferson F. Moser, of the United States navy, reported that the Alaskan salmon fisheries were doomed unless the trap nets, now so widely used, were abolished. The trap is said to kill twice as many salmon as are utilized by the cannery. All the fishermen agree that the trap net should be abolished, for the preservation of the business, but each is afraid to give up his traps while his neighbors are using them. Competition is too keen.

Both the trap net and the fish wheel have been abolished by law in British Columbia, and nothing but the gill net is now permitted. In this the meshes are woven just large enough to catch the big fish by the gills, while it permits the smaller ones to escape unhurt. The Fraser river and its tributaries form the great salmon supply field of Canada, and this field is carefully proected by law so that the fish are not wasted, either by the trap nets of Alaska or the fish wheels of the Columbia river.

The introduction of the gill net is impossible until congress shall have passed laws compelling its use, and this the fishermen are willing should be done.

Some of the canneries have already taken steps to prevent the exhaustion of their fish supply by building hatch-eries at the head of the streams in which they spread their nets. What was once regarded as a fable is now gaining ground as a scientific fact, that a salmon returns to the stream of its nativity to breed. It is said that fish born near the sources of a river, on growing strong and vigorous, swim out to sea, plough up and down the ocean for several years, and then on maturity turn back to breed in their native river. A rushing tide or precipitous waterfall does not daunt them, and it is a common sight to see these fish leaping up cataracts to gain the quiet pools beyond.

In order to prove the truth of this theory fishermen have branded young fish, turned them loose, and say they have captured them years afterward in the self-same streams.

UP THE FRASER RIVER.

THE MOUNTAIN THROUGH WHICH THE TUNNEL IS TO GO.

three years; found that the tunnel was feasible and selected two locations for it, of which that known as the upper location has been finally chosen.

The cost of constructing the tunnel Mr. Fellows estimated at $2,500,000. The next step was to secure the approval of the secretary of the interior and the necessary appropriation, which the passage of the national irrigation act in 1892 rendered possible.

Mr. Fellows says that it will take three years to complete the tunnel, of which two years will be devoted to boring and one year to concreting. The bore is through granite and shale, in about equal quantities.

The tunnel will be about 12 feet square and will have a fall of two feet in a thousand. Its length will be about 30,000 feet, approximately 5 3/4 miles. At the diverting point in the Gunnison, diversion gates will be constructed. There will also be provision for a forest reserve at the headwaters of the river, to insure the permanency of the supply.
